

“Bringing classics to life”

We are a brand new UK publisher creating graphical novel adaptations of classical literature.

True to the original intentions of the authors and playwrights, our publications are crafted using the finest artists to bring you a truly wonderful reading experience that you'll return to again and again. Timeless stories receiving our own authentic and exciting treatment; from Shakespeare to Dickens to Bronte, there is something for everyone in our launch series of 4 titles:

Henry V (October 2007)
Neill Cameron, Bambos, Jason Cardy

Macbeth (January 2008)
Jon Haward, Nigel Dobbyn

Jane Eyre (Spring 2008)
John M Burns

Great Expectations (Spring 2008)
John Stokes

More titles are planned for publication in 2008 and we are currently recruiting artists to complete that work. We'll be using the Bristol International Comic Expo to help in recruitment, and will be conducting a portfolio review at 3pm on Sunday.

Our intention is for our books to cross the boundary into the mainstream arena while staying true to our comic book origins. With funding secured, and a large number of contacts established, we are confident that we can achieve this....and more!
